

An Afternoon with Diane Ackerman

Saturday, April 18, 3 p.m.

Join us for an engaging afternoon with Diane Ackerman as she discusses her latest book The Human Age: The World Shaped by Us, and explore the ways people are shaping the modern world for the better. Ackerman is a New York Times bestselling author who is well known for her poetry and nonfiction writing, including The Zookeeper's Wife, winner of the Orion Book Award, and A Natural History of the Senses.

"It's easy to live in the moment when you're immersed in Ackerman's glorious prose."

— Washington Post

"A life-changing excursion, pleasing, and provocative to mind, body and soul ... Ackerman is a mesmerizing writer."

— San Francisco Chronicle
